SOJOURNERS AT THE MECKLENBURG

The Bowlers Hold High Carniva and Contest for Pretty Prizes.

FAIR RIVAL OF BRIDGE

The Summer Schedule on the . Southern Road a Great Convenience.

THE MECKLENBURG, CHASE CITY, VA., July 21.—During the week the Mecklenburg has been slowly setting itself to its normal conditions after the very pleasurable excitement of the recent Press Association here, a feature of which was the large number of honorary members, the delightful women who as Press Association here, a feature of which was the large number of honorary members, the delightful women who accompanied them, and were a most attractive addition to the social part of the programme. This unusually pleasant social wave subsiding, left behind as charming reminders of it also Charlotte Britt, of Oxford, N. C.; Miss Maude Chaplin, of Rock Hill, S. C., and Miss Pauline Duncan, of Chatham, Va., welcome additions to the very attractive youngest set already gathered here. Howling is growing in popularity, and is perhaps ahead in morning pastitines in spite of its very formidable rival, the fascinating bridge.

The bowling alley was the scene on Tuesday morning of a merry and skillful game, at which Miss Ida Sims, of Lawrenceville, one of the most attractive here, was hostess. The gentleman's prize was won by Mr. E. Palmer, of Emporia, and the highest score among the ladies was made by Mrs. J. R. Hiatt, of Clinton, N. C. Mr. Wells received the gentlemen's booby, and Miss Mary Meliwaine, of Petersburg, the consolation prize awarded to those of her sex in the game. Besides those fortunate prize-winners, who wereescorted back to the hotel by the admiring throng which had themen's booby, and Miss Mary Moll-waine, of Petersburg, the consolation prize awarded to those of her sex in the game. Besides those fortunate prizewinners, who wereescorted back to the hotel by the admiring throug which had witnessed their provess, the other guests of Miss Sims were Mrs. L. M. Covington, of Wilimington, N. C.; Mrs. E. A. Fuller, of Baltimore; Mrs. W. T. Hughes, of the Mecklenburg; Miss Julia Underwood Whitley, of Newport News; Miss Maude Chaplin, of Rock Hill, S. C.; Miss Pauline Duncan, of Chatham, Va.; Miss Maude Chaplin, of Rock Hill, S. C.; Miss Pauline Duncan, of Chatham, Va.; Miss Midred Edmunds, of Houston, Va.; Miss Mary Greene, of Petersburg; Miss Charlotte Britt, of Oxford, N. C.; Miss Mary Carter Anderson, of Hanover county, Va.; Jr. Edmunds, of the Mecklenburg, and Messrs. Fuller, Sizer, Doran, Jackson, Palimer, Turubull, Davis, Hyson, and Wells.

The excellent summer schedule of the Southern road makes possible for the Mecklenburg guests a day's stay at the

To the list of young ladies are added the names of Miss Lenore Tinsley, Miss Pattle Miller and Miss Mayme Pickett Jones, of Richmond, all valuable additions to the ball-room. Among the most tions to the ball-room. Among the mograceful dancers are Misses Warfield a graceful dancers are Misses Warfield and Fanny Crenshaw; Miss Ethel McCaw and Miss Elsle Parrish, of Richmond, and Miss Olive Manson, of New Orleans.

The special feature of the past week was a large salmagund! party on Thursday night in the ball-room. There were six tables, and versatile were the talents exercised in the contest—from eard playing to sewing on buttons. The first prize was won by Mrs. J. M. Pagand, from New Orleans; the second by Miss Mary Chalmers, of Richmond. Mrs. Pagand's wit and charming personality make her one of the most popular ladies at The Brandon.

The birthday of the well known Dr.
J. B. McCaw, of Richmond, was also celebrated on Thursday. At dinnertime his daughter, Mrs. Maury, sent to every guest a slice of the birthday cake and a glass of punch, in which to drink the Doctor's health, and a lively seven-hand cuchre party was played in the parior at night.

Mr. Marion Langhorne, of Richmond, is a guest of The Brandon. Mr. Langhorne undertook to make the trip in his steam automobile, but an accident occurring to the auto at Meachem's River, it was shipped West for repairs, and Mr. Langhorne made the rest of the journey by rall. of this delightful old spot, it has been tried always and never yet found wanting.

Riding parties are still in the majority, which is only natural, owing to the wonderful beauty of the mountain roads and bridle paths, seconded by a livery boating horses unexcelled. In fact, this last is a most remarkable feature, as summer resorts, both North and South, are too often sadly wanting in their liveries, but of this one I think it may be safely said that it is second to none—so small wonder the horses are in constant requisition. Those to be seen himest daily in the saddle are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Jones, of Cincinnati, Miss Dorothy Donald and Miss Kathering Donald, of Mobile, Ala.; Miss Gibson, of Baltimore; Miss Hiddle of Washington; Miss Henrietta McPhillips, of Mobile; Miss Widmouth, of New York; Mr. E.
